

B1 InterCompany

Optimize and automate your document flow and achieve better control between your connected companies.

Boyum IT Solutions offers an intercompany solution for SAP Business One, a leading enterprise resource planning (ERP) system for SMEs. The new Boyum solution aims to streamline and automate intercompany transactions and processes within organizations.

The B1 InterCompany solution enables seamless communication and collaboration between different entities or subsidiaries within a company. It allows for the efficient transfer of data, documents, and transactions between multiple SAP Business One databases. This helps organizations to consolidate and manage their financials, inventory, and other business processes across different entities.

Key features and benefits of the B1 InterCompany solution

Streamlined InterCompany Transactions

- The solution simplifies the process of creating and managing intercompany transactions, such as sales orders, purchase orders, deliveries, and invoices. It ensures accurate and timely data transfer between entities, reducing manual errors and improving efficiency.

Automated Workflows

- The solution automates various intercompany workflows, such as automatic creation of intercompany documents, synchronization of master data, and real-time updates between entities. This reduces manual effort and improves data accuracy.

Centralized Data Management

- With the B1 InterCompany solution, organizations can centralize their data management and reporting. It provides a unified view of intercompany transactions, inventory levels, and financials, enabling better decision-making and analysis.

Enhanced Visibility and Control

- Organizations gain better visibility and control over their intercompany operations. They can track and monitor intercompany transactions, inventory movements, and financials in real-time. This helps in identifying bottlenecks, optimizing processes, and improving overall performance.

Scalability and Flexibility

- The B1 InterCompany solution is designed to accommodate the growth and changing needs of organizations. It supports multi-company setups, allowing for easy integration of new entities or subsidiaries. It also offers flexibility in configuring intercompany processes according to specific business requirements.

Why should you use B1 InterCompany?

An intercompany solution is relevant for you who would like to have better control over your databases, so that you avoid errors, and everything is controlled centrally. You get better opportunities to optimize your work processes in connection with trade and maintenance of master data and everything takes place in real-time, so you avoid waiting times.
